1. In March 1953, the budget of Work HF in Berlin Oberschoeneweide, contained an item of 15,000,000 Eastmarks for development tasks, of which 1,500,000 Eastmarks were earmarked for the development of tubes. In addition to these development tasks, the tube-developing department had to execute, in 1953, production orders amounting to 1,000,000 Eastmarks related to the manufacture of individual tubes or small series. In late 1952, the entire tube developing department had a labor force of 140 persons.
2. In April 1953, the tasks assigned to the experimental laboratories were discussed at the monthly plant conference. Mrs. Thurley (fnu) was allocated a sum of more than 100,000 Eastmarks for the development of fluorescent screens, while an amount of 120,000 Eastmarks was made available for the development of cathodes.
